Dear Friends and Fellow Republicans

Several days ago, many of us became aware of a challenge that one of our good friends is going through. Dwight Williams, the Central Region Vice Chair of the 6th Congressional District Republican Committee, recently announced that he has colon cancer.

There are certain words that no one should ever have to say. Two of them are "Colon" and "Cancer".

Dwight and I were actually running against each other in 2020, but I earned a healthy respect for him during the campaign - and consider Dwight a good friend and certainly a Christian brother.

As most of us are people of the Christian faith, please take a few minutes and pray for our good friend Dwight, so that he may heal quickly and return to us healed and ready to do battle against our common enemy, the Democratic
