Afghanistan - Why It Can't Be Fixed - Part 2

Earlier this week, I sent out in the Newsletter an article written by yours truly from the American Thinker, about why trying to fix Afghanistan can't be done. Here is a video explaining in a bit more detail how the "country" was formed, and why it will always be trouble.

This video explains in amazing detail what the logistical problems with going into Afghanistan are, some more detail on things I explained earlier (tribalism vs

A special thanks to each of you who has been praying for my family. While my cousin Gina did get out with most of her family this past weekend, it turns out that other extended members of my family had contracted to help out the US Army, and now the Biden regime refuses to acknowledge their contributions to helping the USA. This is a mess of epic and Biblical proportions because we have a regime which is willfully incompetent and quite frankly, dangerous.

St. Fauci

As most of you are likely aware, a few weeks back, Dr. Fauci, in a show of megalomania which has not been seen in years, actually had the nerve to say that all attacks on him are attacks on science. So while Afghanistan and the Biden regime's disastrous handling of this has started a worldwide crisis, we must not forget what is happening here, and how Dr. Fauci is saying literally that challenging him is an attack on science - not to mention that he helped fund the weaponizing of the COVID virus:

More From the Campaign Trail

While Democrats around the state are playing at Martha's Vineyard - your conservative candidates are working on your behalf to try and turn back what the leftists are doing to this state. Everywhere we go, you can see Delegate Tony Wilt, or John Avoli, or Chris Runion, or Joe McNamara. Chris Head is out there busting his hump, as is Wendell Walker. I can go on and on for hours - but we need to be out there supporting our team. Charlie Nave has been out in 90 degree heat knocking on doors to try and Make Roanoke Great Again. Morgan McCown has been teaching the Central region about the evils of CRT and just how out of touch most School Board's are.

Recently I had the privilege of meeting Sabrina Von Schilling, the Commissioner of the Revenue for Waynesboro, who is out there explaining just how important it is to have a conservative Republican in her office - so that the leftists can't use the tax collection system as a weapon against the good people of Waynesboro.

off to get Team Youngkin elected. I've seen new activists like Craig Scott and JH Kostelni running up and down CD 6 to discuss issues of great importance to the GOP faithful. Team Youngkin had a rally in Harrisonburg this past Friday, and it was thanks to the help of REDWAVE volunteers under the leadership of Valeta McDonald and Lorna Nichols that made the event a success. (I do need to mention Dwight Williams, Kent Robey, Dave Bourne, Marshall Pattie again, and about 25 others who made this event happen)

Some who may have already won their uncontested races, such as Bethany Harrison (Commonwealth Attorney Lynchburg) and Vicky Cook (Warren County Fork District Supervisor) are out there working to get other Republicans elected (aka Team Youngkin/Sears/Miyares).

And every Member of your District Committee has been up and down their region - myself included, to try and get our turnout up to maximum. Some are doing this in a very public way, others more privately, But your District Committee is doing its job to make sure we turn Virginia Red come November.

Hypocrisy Never Fails From the Elite

I take COVID seriously, but do not think that COVID is as serious as the Spanish Flu of 1918. All of us have seen evidence of elites demanding that we all wear masks, but masks aren't necessary for them. These virtue signaling elitists recently got another seal of approval from Speaker San Fran Nan (Pelosi) who hosted a $30,000 per ticket dinner - and the only people wearing masks were the lowly servants feeding the wealthy. We saw the elites dancing as Hurricane Henri approached NY State and NE this past weekend.

However this is not the only pandemic in which the elites had one set of rules for themselves and another for us. In the Spanish Flu pandemic, it turns out that masks were also mandated in California. However, just like today, masks were only required for some and not others. The only difference now is there is a media which is covering for the Democratic elites.
