Dear Friends and Fellow Republicans

Ben Cline Takes On Big Spenders Inside Washington DC

"Allowing important and potentially controversial legislation to be attached to a must pass spending bill without proper debate or consideration is business as to end the status quo in Washington and best represent the people whom we were elected to serve, we must ensure that legislation is considered on their own merits, rather than being lumped with unrelated spending bills"

These important words were spoken by Ben Cline to Breitbart News - referring to the JCPA (a piece of legislation supported by the legacy media, and would seriously impact local and independent journalists) being attached to an omnibus spending bill.

Our favorite swamp dweller, Mitch McConnell, has gone along with Chuck Schumer (D NY State, Majority Leader) in trying to hitch these 2 bills to each other. Fortunately Ben Cline is leading the fight to stop that, and to stop business inside Washington DC as it is. Late last week, incoming GOP Whip Tom Emmer announced he'd oppose JCPA.

GO BEN GO!!!!!!

A New GOP Star is Born

While we had a bad day overall this past November, well sometimes we need to cherry pick good news wherever we can find it. Incoming Alabama Senator Katie Britt seems to be the real deal. When asked why Republicans didn't do well in November, Senator Elect Britt talked about the lack of a coherent message. And when asked what that message must be, Mrs. Britt said:

We are the party of faith, family, freedom, and opportunity. We missed being able to get that message to some of the younger generations, so we've got to reconfigure how we do that.

She then went onto say:

Americans are looking for people to actually create results. We see that in our state. Alabamians don't want someone who just talks about the issues.

take our nation back.

That's what Americans are expecting, that's what Republicans want, and that's what we're going to do between now and 2024.

Senator Elect Britt gets it. We're sick of having mealy mouthed people talk about issues. The conservative base wants results. People follow leadership. People do not follow elected officials who can't determine where to go or what to say without taking a poll first.

Newspeak from the Associated Press

Never letting the chance to turn us into Oceania from Orwell's 1984, the AP has now decided that the term "late term abortion" must be banned, in favor of "abortion later in pregnancy". The AP is also claiming, which is rather specious, that LATE TERM ABORTIONS do not occur - something we know to be false - we know this because of how upset they get whenever we talk about making LATE TERM ABORTIONS illegal.
