Democrats Want Us To Suffer - Buttigieg Edition

Not to be outdone - Transportation Secretary Pete Buttigieg has hopped onto the "Let's Make the Masses Suffer" bandwagon by hitching his presidential ambitions to electric vehicles. Secretary Buttigieg went so far as to suggest that the only way to get Americans to transition to electric vehicles was to have high gas prices.

Mr. Buttigieg is completely out to lunch if he thinks that we can get rid of fossil fuels anytime in the next few decades. 1st off, the average EV costs approximately $66,000. And an electric vehicle is really only good at this time for short trips in and around an urban area. For people who commute long distances, an electric vehicle is not practical. Electric vehicles often take a long time to charge. And there isn't the infrastructure to ensure that a transition to electric vehicles can be done anytime soon. Most rural areas don't have adequate charging stations.

Some states are saying that there are serious possibilities of power shortages - the main one being Texas. Imagine being told that you can't power your EV

The cheapest EV - the Kia EV 6, costs nearly $41,000. This price literally makes it impossible for the average American to afford an electric vehicle. According to a recent study, 3/4 of Americans purchase used vehicles for their primary transportation, spending approximately $27,000 per car.

Electric vehicles may well be the way of the future. I trust in American ingenuity and the freedom of the marketplace to sort this out. What I do not trust is self appointed woke elitists like Secretary Buttigieg to ram things down our throats which clearly aren't ready for mass consumption.

AOC and Ilhan Omar "Arrested"?

Earlier this week, at a pro abortion protest in front of the Supreme Court, AOC and Ilhan Omar - members of the Squad, were "arrested" and "led away" in make believe handcuffs. For those of you who haven't seen the video - it's surreal. These 2 fakes pretended to be cuffed by Capitol Hill Police, and then would raise their fists in solidarity with the protesters.
