Dear Friends and Fellow Republicans

Vote Early and In Person

Friends

I'll be voting later today, and am asking that each of you do the same. Voting starts at your local registrar's office this morning, and by voting early, you'll ensure that no one can vote in your place. Just drive to your local registrar's office on the way to work or the way home. It's easy! Doing so also ensures that life won't get in your way.

From the offices of Ben Cline

Ben's office has updated their website. In an email to his constituents, Ben says:

Dear friend,

As your Representative in Congress, one of my top priorities is being as accessible as possible to you. That is why I am excited to announce the launch of my new website, and I invite you to access it by clicking here.

This new site is an improvement over the old site and is easier to use, but most importantly it will serve as another way for you to reach me and to find out what I am working on in Congress. The website has several sections where you can:

- View my top priorities in Congress.
- Sign up for my weekly newsletter.
- Access contact information and locations for each of my offices.
- Read my latest op-eds and news article mentions.
- Receive information on assistance with a federal agency.
- Obtain town hall and mobile office hours information.
- Submit a scheduling request to meet with myself or a member of my team.
- A dedicated section where you can write to me directly.

I hope you find the new website useful. If you are having trouble accessing it, please contact my Washington, D.C. office at (202) 225-5451.

Sincerely,

Ben Cline
Member of Congress
