Well I Hope Neil Young Will Remember - A Southern Man Don't Need Him Around Anyhow!

For us geriatric delinquents and lovers of great music of the 70's, one of the most famous lyric sets out there was from Lynyrd Skynyrd and Sweet Home Alabama. In response to Neil Young's insulting songs insulting Southern culture and the South as a whole - Lynyrd Skynyrd sang and I quote:

Well I heard Mr. Young sing about her
Well I heard ole Neil put her down
Well I hope Neil Young will remember
A Southern Man don't need him around anyhow earlier this week saying that Spotify could not have both Neil Young and Joe Rogan (anti COVID vaccine activist). God bless Spotify, they didn't take the bait, and told Neil Young that they don't bow down to threats, and wished him well, and hope that he'd come back to Spotify once he came back to his senses.

Good riddance I say.

Radical Leftists Again Show They're Not Fit for Polite Society

Agree with Governor Glenn Youngkin or disagree, it would be hard to debate the man's faith in the power of the God of the Bible and the fact that Jesus Christ is his Lord and Savior. The Youngkin's founded a church in McLean Virginia dedicated to the teachings of Jesus Christ, and have lived their lives as people of faith.

So of course, Delegate Donald Scott of Portsmouth Virginia went there - calling Mr. Youngkin "no man of faith, and not a Christian".

Show me in the New Testament where it's Christian to put one race or ethnic group above another,. You can't - as it does not exist. The New Testament teaches that all races are equal in God's eyes. For Delegate Scott to say these things - well it's despicable.

Nick Freitas Fights Back!

Sick and tired of watching radical leftists call us racist all the time, Delegate Nick Freitas of Culpeper started to fight back, with a very eloquent speech on the House Floor yesterday. Quite frankly we all need to be doing this same thing. Radical leftists won't quit until they're defeated and sent to the dung heap of history - next to their Bolshevik friends in the Soviet Union.
